

WOMEN'S MINISTRIES, EXISTS TO HELP WOMEN REACH THEIR POTENTIAL IN JESUS-CHRIST.

"TO TOUCH A HEART AND TELL THE WORLD."

Ellen White was very much in favour of Women's Ministries. She said: "They (women) can do a work that men cannot do. They can come close to the hearts of those whom men cannot reach. Their labour is needed." (Evangelism page 465) and... "Let a woman realize the sacredness of her work and in the strength and fear of God, take up her mission." 3T 565

Mission Statement

Our Mission is to elevate women as persons of inestimable worth because they have been created and redeemed.

Spiritual Vision Statement

To lift up Jesus Christ, that through His transforming grace women will be empowered.

THE MINISTRY OF Women's Ministries

Have you been asked to serve your local church as a Women's Ministries leader? Or perhaps you serve on a church nominating committee and are wondering what a Women's Ministries leader is expected to do. This guide has been designed to help you understand the role of Women's Ministries within your local church.

Women's Ministries exists to:

- Nurture the local church women so they can see their worth in Jesus-Christ
- To empower these women so they can realize their potential
- As they are nurtured and empowered, they are ready to do outreach, to touch others

Responsible to

The Church Board and the Pastor

Time Commitment

It is recommended that regular meetings be held, preferably once a month in order to keep the momentum going.

Term of Office

One year, but depending upon the church's structure, possibly 3 years in order to become comfortable with the role and responsibilities of the leadership and to accomplish the goals of the committee.

Duties & Responsibilities

The major duties and responsibilities of the Women's Ministries leader in the local church include the following:

- Establish a committee
Work with the church board to establish a committee ideally composed of women interested in the broad spectrum of women's needs and concerns. The committee's purpose is to brainstorm, develop strategies, and assist in planning programs and activities that relate to women's specific and varied needs.
- Needs assessment
Work closely with the committee to survey the needs of the women in the local church and community.
- Program development
Work with the committee and the pastor to develop and implement Women's Ministries programs or seminars, and network with existing support groups active in the church.

Chairperson of the Women's Ministries Committee

It is the responsibility of the local church Women's Ministries leader to chair the Women's Ministries committee. She will encourage ideas and plans that maximize women's contribution to the mission of the church. The chair will put together an agenda, moderate discussion, and facilitate group cohesion through personal sharing, prayer, and fellowship.

Spiritual Gifts

Women's Ministries believes that every believer should know his/her spiritual gift/s. We therefore have developed a program to help women find out what their gifts are. God has gifted each and every one of us with at least one gift and we want to help women minister according to that gift.

As Christians, seeking to follow the example of Jesus, we believe that it is important to do what we can to meet the needs of all people, developing trust, and helping them to find the answers to their needs. For this reason, Women's Ministries has chosen to focus much of its attention on 6 challenges that affect women:

1. Threats to health (poor health status)
2. Length of workday (a woman's workload)
3. Poverty (economic standing)
4. Lack of Training, mentoring and opportunities
5. Abuse (in all its forms)
6. Illiteracy (education/literacy level)

Women's Ministries is about more than just monthly meetings, special programs, retreats or congresses and social networking for women in the church. Certainly, it can provide all those things, but Women's Ministries is so much more. It's all about what the name says—ministry.
