KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Pr. Adrian Webster

Pr. Ben Martin

Pr. Victor Kulakov

Across six Vision-Casting Sessions, our keynote speakers will explore God's call for every believer to become a Spirit-led disciple-maker—equipped to recognise the potential in others, carry the gospel into every space, and participate in Christ's ministry of reconciliation.

Pr Adrian Webster - Every Believer. Reconciled to Reconcile.

Pr Adrian will open the weekend by exploring God's plan for every believer to participate in finishing the mission. He will return in the final session to the reconciling heart of the gospel and our shared calling to become a people through whom others encounter Christ.

Pr Ben Martin - The Church Jesus Had in Mind

Pr Ben will invite us to imagine a church in which every believer sees themselves as a Spirit-led disciple-maker. He will also explore the personal and collective cost of becoming that kind of church—and the changes it may require in our priorities, leadership and way of life.

Pr Victor Kulakov - Discerning Potential. Extending the Mission.

Pr Victor will explore how we can recognise the spiritual SHAPE of those we are discipling and help release their God-given potential. He will then widen the vision into the digital world, encouraging disciples to use their voices, gifts and influence wherever people are already connecting.

Reclaiming Our Roots

How could a handful of Christians from various denominations grow into a worldwide Missional movement of nearly 25 million members with over 10,000 educational facilities, 733 hospitals and health centres, and 1700 medical clinics. We will explore 7 core values that motivated our Pioneers to change their world.

Does Your Budget Reflect Your Mission?

Aligning vision, strategy and financial priorities

Who Died and Made You Boss?

Jesus did—and He redefined leadership forever. In a world chasing status and power, Jesus calls His followers to something radically different: servant leadership. Discover why greatness in God's Kingdom begins with serving others, and explore how this counter-cultural approach can transform your leadership, your ministry, and your church.

Workplace Evangelism (Theology of Work)

This workshop may be challenging. Whilst Adventists have recognized the importance of the true Sabbath, they have not recognized that current Christian theologies of work are not biblical. The workshop will explore the negatives, God's calling to each person, and the true theology of work as revealed in the Genesis narrative.

#1: "It Takes a Village" - Practical Tools for Building Mentoring Relationships.

No leader is meant to walk alone, yet building deep, intentional and impactful mentoring relationships can feel daunting. How do we move beyond coffee catch-ups into life-changing leadership development? This workshop equips leaders with tools to nurture, and to be nurtured, through mentoring relationships.

#2: "The Nehemiah Strategy" - Uniting to Build a Church-wide Mentoring Culture.

When Nehemiah rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem he did it by assigning every family a section to rebuild and defend. Crafting a healthy, sustaining mentoring culture takes intentionality. Drawing principles from Nehemiah's leadership this workshop is designed for leaders who want to move beyond isolated mentoring efforts to build a united church-wide mentoring movement.

PRAYER ACTIVITIES

1. Ask for the Spirit

Read Luke 11:13 and write it out in the box below in a way that is memorable for you:

Find 2-3 others and pray with them for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit over us this weekend, and over our church at large. Ask with faith for God's promise to be fulfilled.

2. What Jesus thinks of Me

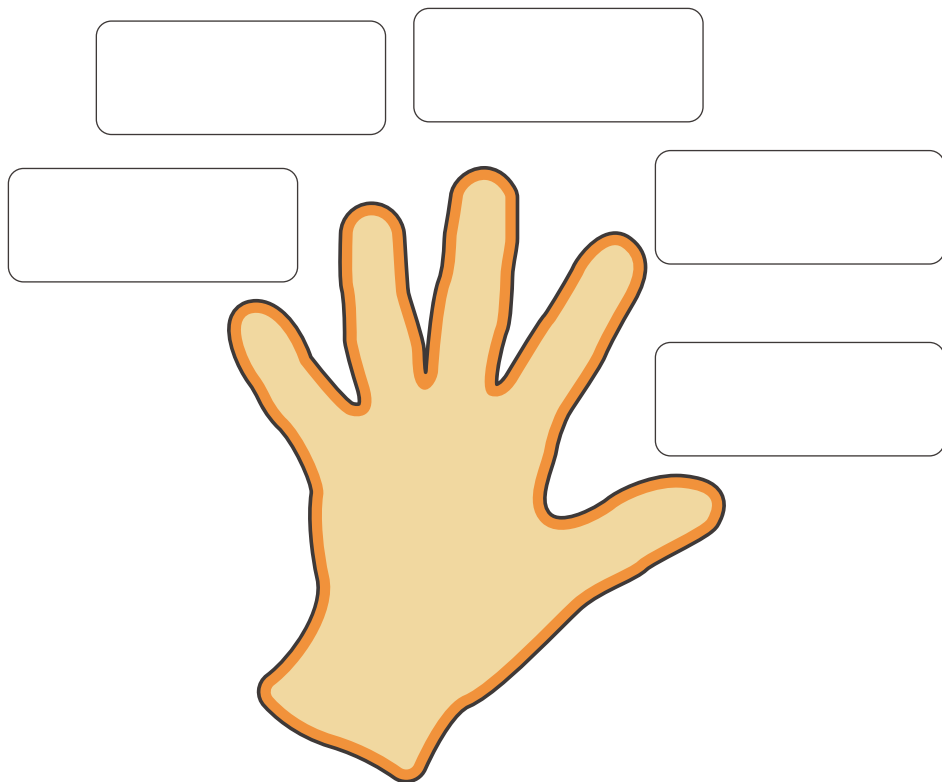

Find Jer 29:11 in your Bible, and fill in the missing words below by writing your own name in the blank lines:

"For I know the THOUGHTS that I have for _____ says the Lord. THOUGHTS not to harm _____, but to give _____ a hope and a future."

Write a personal prayer of commitment to God that believes the promise of Jer 29:11 for your life is true.

3. Praying for the Church

Complete the diagram below of who each finger represents to intercede in prayer for. (From thumb to pinky: friends, leaders, enemies, sick, me)

Find a prayer partner and pray briefly for each name you have listed.

4. PRAY Steps

Write out a short and punchy prayer beside the words below and then find a prayer partner to pray your points with:

Praise - lift up God for who He is or what He's done

Repent - specifically turn away from something that is separating you from Jesus

Ask - seek God's help for one particular area of your life

Yield - lift up God for who He is or what He's done

5. Gratitude Wall

Fill in the wall below with things that you are grateful to God for. Make it personal and do as many as you can think of.

Find someone to pray with and offer a prayer of gratitude, tracing the blessings you have written down.

6. Popcorn Power

Read Zech 4:6. Find four people you haven't prayed with yet this weekend. Write their names below and pray a quick popcorn-sized prayer for their lives to be led by God's Spirit:

Person 1:

Person 2:

Person 3:

Person 4:

But the Helper, the Holy Spirit... will teach you all things and remind you of everything I have said to you. - John 14:26

Repentance for the forgiveness of sins will be preached... But stay in the city until you have been clothed with power from on high. - Luke 24:46-49

As the Father has sent me, I am sending you... Receive the Holy Spirit.
- John 20:21-22

Repent and be baptized... and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.
- Acts 2:38-42

What you have heard from me... entrust to faithful people who will be able to teach others also. - 2 Timothy 2:2

The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace...
- Galatians 5:22-25

He gave... apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers, to equip the saints... - Ephesians 4:11-13

For all who are led by the Spirit of God are children of God.
- Romans 8:14-16

Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit," says the Lord of hosts.
- Zechariah 4:6

Go therefore and make disciples of all nations... teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. - Matthew 28:18-20

But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you will be my witnesses... - Acts 1:8

Reclaiming Our Roots

Speaker: Pr. Andrew West

Seven Core Values of the Seventh-day Adventist Pioneers

1. _____

Scripture is the authoritative foundation for faith and duty; other sources assist but do not replace it.

- Where do historical tradition, preference, or institutional habits currently compete with Scripture in our ministry?
- What practice would help our leaders and members study, test, and apply the Bible more faithfully?

Notes / implications:

2. _____

God continues to deepen His people's understanding of biblical truth and present duty.

- What truth or duty is God pressing upon the church in our present context?
- How can we remain open to growing biblical understanding without losing theological clarity or confidence?

Notes / implications:

3. _____

Mission advances through the Holy Spirit's guidance, correction, gifting, and power.

- Where might our plans be relying more on strategy, personality, or habit than on the Holy Spirit?
- What would discernible, prayerful dependence on the Holy Spirit look like in your ministry?

Notes / implications:

4. _____

The pioneers were driven to uplift Jesus and proclaim the gospel in the context of the Three Angels' Messages.

- Can your leaders and members clearly state the mission that guides your church's priorities?
- Which activity should you strengthen, change, or stop so that Jesus and mission remain central?

Notes / implications:

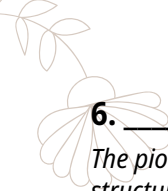

5. _____

The church was driven by young people, who in turn trusted, developed, sponsored, and released other youth into meaningful leadership and mission.

- Where are young people currently contributing to real decisions, leadership, and frontline mission?
- What responsibility, resource, or mentoring relationship could we intentionally place in younger hands?

Notes / implications:

6. _____

The pioneers adopted and developed new methods in publishing, health, education, structure, and outreach.

- Which established method is no longer reaching the people God has called us to serve?
- What faithful experiment could we begin now to communicate timeless truth in a new and relevant way?

Notes / implications:

7. _____

Every disciple is called to ministry; mission is not the work of pastors and officers alone.

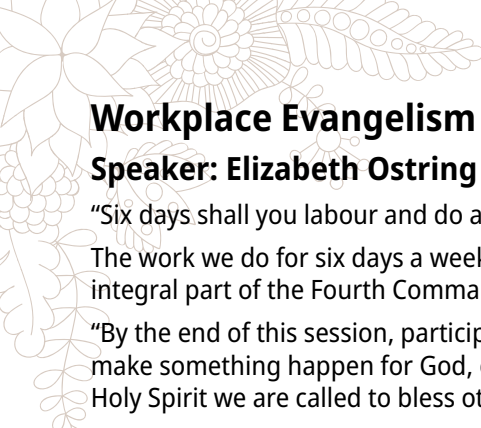

- What is preventing ordinary members from recognising and using their gifts in mission?
- How could our leadership shift from doing ministry for people to equipping people for ministry?

Notes / implications:

One Next Step

Which one value most needs to be reclaimed in your ministry context, and how can you make that happen?

Workplace Evangelism (Theology of Work)

Speaker: Elizabeth Ostring

“Six days shall you labour and do all your work . . .” Ex 20:8-11

The work we do for six days a week is our greatest witnessing opportunity, and an integral part of the Fourth Commandment.

“By the end of this session, participants will realize that we work not to achieve, make something happen for God, or earn a ‘living’, but through the power of the Holy Spirit we are called to bless others.”

Opening

“The definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results.” Adventists have not developed a theology of work, current “Christian” theologies of work are not biblical, and yet a fundamental Adventist belief is in the importance of the fourth commandment. A biblical approach to work revitalizes outreach.

Key Point 1 (Session 1)

Separating the “spiritual” from ordinary everyday work has robbed church members of their outreach potential. Although Genesis clearly presents that human work was cursed, we need to understand why.

Bible text: Whether therefore you eat or drink or whatsoever you do, do all to the glory of God, 1 Cor 10:31.

Key Point 2 (Session 2)

“The greatest argument in favour of the gospel is a loving and lovable Christian” MH p470.

Work and outreach is relational. It is through our ordinary work that we are given opportunities to witness. But this means much depends on whether we are truly transformed, lovable Christians.

Bible text: God Called Abraham and his family to “Be a Blessing” Gen 12:1-3. Isaac is presented as an interesting example of outreach potential through ordinary work.

Key Point 3 (Session 3)

God is the Great Worker. As long as we see ourselves as the great performers we will fail (remember Abraham and Hagar). If we give everything to God, He blesses abundantly.

Bible text: “God sent me before you to preserve life...God sent me before you to preserve a posterity...God...has made me a father to Pharaoh... God has made me lord over all Egypt.” (Gen 45:5-9).

Discussion/Activity

What has been your attitude to ordinary everyday work and those who do this?
How does the church foster the idea of “holy” work performed as witnessing, and less important work that does not have eternal witnessing value?

How can pastors and church leaders assist members in realizing their individual outreach potential in their everyday workplaces?

Next Steps

Pray that God will give church leaders wisdom to value all workers and their outreach potential, and to individually encourage members.

Talk to church members about their work, discover what they do and how they can use this to reach out and bless others.

Final Takeaway

The one thing I want participants to remember is that we are witnessing whether we realize it or not. Because we fail to recognize that our greatest witness is our own transformed lives, six days in our work, and on the seventh worshipping God, we make witnessing an unfortunate add on to an already exhausting life.

Teach to Multiply: How to facilitate Bible learning so it can be passed on

Speaker: Willie Iererua

1. The Multiplication Mindset

- A Bible study is not complete when information is shared; it is complete when the learner can _____.
- The facilitator's role is not to have all the answers, but to help people _____ God's Word for themselves.
- Reproducible learning should be simple enough to _____, practise and pass on.

What usually prevents learners from becoming facilitators?

2. A Simple Reproducible Process

- LOOK — What the Bible is _____
- UNDERSTAND — What the Bible means _____?
- RESPOND — What I will _____ because of it
- PASS IT ON — Who I could _____ this with

One question I could use to draw people into the Bible:

3. Practise Facilitating

Choose a short Bible passage. In pairs or triads, one person facilitates for 5 minutes, one participates, and one observes. Then rotate if time allows.

Passage:

Opening question: (Hook in)

Observation question: (What they notice)

Meaning question: (What the Bible reveals about Jesus)

Response question: (How we can live it)

Multiplication question: (Who or how it will be passed on)

4. Coaching Feedback

What helped people participate?

What could be simpler or clearer?

What would help a learner lead this next time?

5. My Multiplication Plan

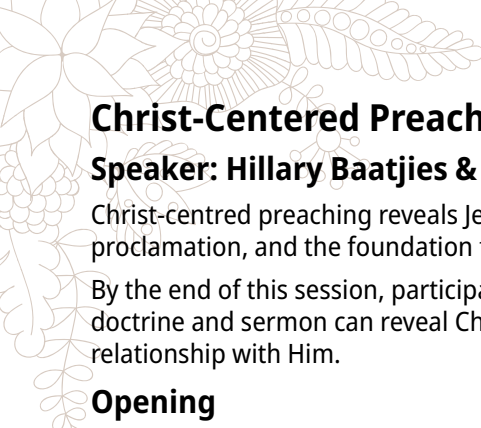

One person or group I will equip:

One passage or topic we will explore:

One simple step I will take in the next seven days:

What I need to stop doing so others can participate more:

Christ-Centered Preaching

Speaker: Hillary Baatjies & Jozaine Josephs

Christ-centred preaching reveals Jesus as the centre of Scripture, the power of proclamation, and the foundation for lasting Adventist discipleship.

By the end of this session, participants will be able to identify how every biblical doctrine and sermon can reveal Christ more clearly and call people into a deeper relationship with Him.

Opening

What happens when people join the church, learn its teachings, and participate in its programmes—but do not become deeply attached to Jesus Christ?

The Adventist Church continues to grow globally, yet many who have joined have later left. This is not merely a statistical issue; it is a pastoral, discipleship, theological, and preaching issue. The central question is not simply, “How can we baptise more people?” but, “How can we preach so that people enter a living, enduring relationship with Christ?”

Invite participants to write one word that describes what makes a disciple remain faithful through disappointment, doubt, conflict, or change.

Key Point 1

Christ is the centre of Scripture

Jesus said, “These are they which testify of Me” (John 5:39). It is possible to study and preach the Bible while failing to bring people to Jesus. We may preach doctrine without revealing Christ, explain prophecy without exalting Christ, defend the Sabbath without leading people to the Lord of the Sabbath, or teach the sanctuary without introducing the great High Priest.

From Genesis to Revelation, Scripture bears witness to Christ. He is the promised Seed, the Passover Lamb, the Rock in the wilderness, the Son of Man, the Suffering Servant, the incarnate Word, the risen Lord, our righteousness, the Lamb on the throne, and the coming King.

The Scriptures testify of _____.

Key Point 2

Christ is the power of preaching.

Jesus declared, “And I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all peoples to Myself” (John 12:32). The power of preaching does not ultimately lie in the charisma of the preacher, the quality of the programme, or the sophistication of a method. Christ is the attraction and Christ is the power.

Planning, excellence, creativity, and evangelistic methods matter. But they remain servants of the message. The preacher is the messenger; Christ is the message. The church is the witness; Christ is the attraction.

Lift Me up—and I will _____ all people to Myself.

Key Point 3

Christ-centred preaching strengthens Adventist identity.

Christ-centred preaching does not weaken distinctive Adventist teaching; it gives every doctrine its proper centre. The Sabbath points to Christ the Creator and Redeemer. The sanctuary reveals Christ as sacrifice, priest, mediator, and advocate. The law reflects Christ’s character. The judgment vindicates Christ’s righteousness. The three angels proclaim the everlasting gospel of Christ. The Second Coming directs our hope toward the return of Christ.

Adventism is not a collection of doctrines placed beside Jesus. It is a biblical vision of Jesus—His creation, incarnation, atoning sacrifice, heavenly ministry, judgment, mission, and return.

Our doctrines are windows through which we see _____.

Question 1

When you prepare a sermon, what most often becomes the centre: the biblical text, the doctrine, the practical problem, the preacher, or Christ Himself?

Question 2

Choose one Adventist doctrine you preach regularly. How does that doctrine reveal the person, character, saving work, or mission of Jesus?

Question 3

What might change in your preaching if every sermon had to answer this question: "What does this text reveal about Christ?"

Question 4

How can your preaching help form disciples who remain faithful not merely because of an institution, but because they know and love Jesus?

Discussion / Group Activity

In groups of 3 or 4 choose a preaching passage each. Prepare a two-minute Christ-centred sermon outline using the following four movements:

1. Reveal Christ: What does this text or doctrine reveal about Jesus?
2. Proclaim Christ: How will Christ shape the sermon's central message?
3. Apply Christ: How does the listener trust, abide in, or walk with Jesus?
4. Invite a response to Christ: What response will the sermon invite?
